“Create Your Own World!” is a motto of visionary artists. We all enjoy escaping into, and journeying within, fictional realms. Some aspire to create their own unique artistic worlds. Fictional Worlds, intended for all readers who love literature and film, and especially for writers, filmmakers, and videogame designers, points at new ways of navigating, exploring, and creating entrancing fictional universes. This book's promise is to make its readers more confident fictional world travelers and compelling storytellers. A holistic and evolutionary study of narrative from ancient rituals, myths and fairytales to the current day, this book blends a creative and intellectual approach to writing. The themes of journey, the wonderworld, quest for knowledge, symbolic death-rebirth, conflict resolution, family, and community are at the core of this inquiry into the nature of narrative, its politics and poetics. Teaching nuts and bolts of writing fiction, this book connects the “cultural” dots in the trajectory of the dramatic arc, elucidating the power of storytelling. With Odysseus as a guide, Fictional Worlds is a journey through the landscape of narrative traditions, emerging practices and artistic debates. The four books of this volume explore key genres such as action-adventure, drama, mystery, and comedy. “This brilliant book is far more than a screenwriting manual. Ranging across the globe and throughout history we have here a dazzling survey of the intellectual foundations and possibilities of the cinema. This is must-reading for anyone who is interested in how and, more importantly, why we tell stories on screen.” -- David Desser, author of Eros plus Massacre: An Introduction to the Japanese New Wave Cinema; co-author of American Jewish Filmmakers “A new theory of narrative, which I find both convincing and uplifting. Illuminating and useful anthropological theory of genres. Terrific choice of examples, as well as the analysis. 'Dos and Don'ts: Creative Solutions for the Formulaic Plot' will be immensely helpful to practitioners.... Among interesting ideas: the murder mystery—as tragedy in reverse! And the role of film noir And 'Ulysses as a Peter Pan for grownups'!!! — I love it!” -- Linda Hutcheon, Distinguished Professor Emeritus, University of Toronto, author of A Poetics of Postmodernism, The Politics of Postmodernism, and A Theory of Parody: The Teachings of Twentieth-Century Art Forms “An innovative approach to teaching screenwriting, based in original scholarship of real importance. The book's ideas are of impressive originality and practicality, and expounded with exemplary clarity. Dr. Alexander does a splendid job making a case for the new and more productive understanding of genre. The book features an elegant commentary on the distinction between film as ritual and ceremony. There is much to recommend this fine volume, the writing is generally elegant. The chapter on mystery is so brilliant that it alone would make this book worthy of a semester's study." -- R. Bruce Elder, filmmaker; author of Harmony and Dissent: Film and Avant-Garde Art Movements, and DADA, Surrealism and the Cinematic Effect "There's much I admire about Fictional Worlds, starting with the core project of bridging between narrative theory, anthropological perspectives on myth and ritual, and work in screen studies. I have never seen the books addressing Joseph Campbell's 'Hero's Journey' with relation to screenwriting in the exhaustive detail and with the nuance that Alexander deploys here, and with such a rich array of examples. What I admire is Alexander's insistence on historical and cultural specificity, even while tracing connections in the kinds of stories that have emerged across times and cultures." -- Henry Jenkins, Professor, University of Southern California; author of Convergence Culture: Where Old and New Media Collide

The story behind one of the most ghoulish murder sprees ever carried out-- told first-hand by the killers themselves. By daylight, three Midwestern college students are just anonymous faces in a backpack-sporting crowd. By moonlight, they're responsible for some of the ghastliest crimes in American history. To them it's a joke. For the campus and surrounding town, it's a nightmare. And for anyone who crosses them, it's a crash-course in The Gentle Art of Making Enemies Class isn't just something to cut it's something to die for.

Short Stories: Liz was alone now. Her husband, Paul, was killed last month; and her best friend, Marie, has now just met an untimely death as well. How are they connected? And what did that strange black umbrella have to do with it? Discover the mystery of "The Umbrella", along with five other "Stories of the Macabre"! Essays: I pride myself for my many, what I call, antiques. Okay, so they're mostly junk. But one item is truly a treasure it's "John Lennon's Ashtray". Let me tell you all about it along with six other "Introspective Essays". Poems: Earth, Air, Fire & Water are the four elements written & talked about throughout the ages. Here is a collection of poetry that brings them to life in "Dead Dog & Other Tales". Play: We all have a plethora of relatives, but how many of us have a 'husband-in-law'? And what exactly is one? Jerry and Marvin know, because they are two 'feeling each others pain', "Husbands-in-Law"!

Hilary is so near broke she doesn't know how she'll pay rent this month, never mind eat. Her part-time bookstore gig doesn't cover all her bills. So when she happens across a job opportunity, she can't say no. Her first concern is that she'll be asked to do things she's uncomfortable with. But her new boss, Brad, assures her she'll always be in control at the parties she works, giving men the ultimate fantasy-the unattainable dream. Hilary soon finds herself loving her work and caught up in the excitement. The only problem? She wants more from the men than she's willing or able to ask for. So when the first job offer turns into a second, different, offer, Hilary isn't sure what to say. == > Irresistible Vol. 1 is approx. 205 pages and is volume 1 in the Adrian Grayson series. This story is planned to unfold over three volumes. Due to adult situations this book is for 18 and older only.

An Introduction to Italian Sculpture: Italian Gothic sculpture

For the fourth edition of this introduction to Italian sculpture, the author has thoroughly revised the text, notes and bibliographies, incorporating all the significant new research and publications since the last major revision in 1970-2. Volume I covers the period from about 1150 to 1400. The sculptors dealt with include Nicola and Giovanni Pisano, Arnolfo di Cambio, Andrea Pisano, Lorenzo Ghiberti and Jacopo della Quercia. The monuments illustrated include the great Pisano pulpits, the facades of the cathedrals of Siena, Florence and Orvieto, Milan Cathedral and S. Petronio at Bologna, the Scaliger tombs at Verona, the Angevin monuments in Naples, and Ghiberti's famous door for the Baptistery in Florence. The new edition of this work provides an accessible introduction to the subject for scholars, students and all lovers of Italian art. At the same time its scholarly notes make it a valuable reference work. Each volume in the set of three can be enjoyed in its own right.

A two-volume work covering an extraordinary period in the history of art that produced some of the most famous artists of all time, including Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael, and Michelangelo. Beginning with transitional Late Gothic artists such as Giotto, the biographies in The Encyclopedia of Italian Renaissance and Mannerist Art trace the evolution of the new modes of artistic expression, from scientific naturalism and the development of linear perspective to the exploration of new secular themes derived from Classical literature and mythology. All three phases of Renaissance art are covered: early, high, and late (the latter period also known as Mannerist). Besides biographies on all types of artists, from [painters, illuminators, sculptors, and architects to printmakers and maiolica designers, patrons, and collectors, there are entries on styles, important art forms, cities, and in-depth surveys of all the fine and decorative art forms in Italy during the Renaissance and Mannerist periods.

Raven West is starting over. She's a ship's captain without a ship. She's broke, and because she's beautiful, few investors take her seriously. However, she's not without resources: a cool head, a sharp mind, and a steady gun make all the difference. Want of money drives her to take work as a freelance security agent for a team of scientists. They need her to protect their plans and equipment, though it may already be too late. Part of that technology—plans to a weapon of insurmountable power—has already fallen into the wrong hands. Raven must infiltrate the weapon itself and sabotage key components. To get the job done, she must elude the weapon's security and escape detection, even as the forces of several governments align against her. Coming out of this alive will require the help of her brother Gideon, his guns, and every bit of luck she's never had. But there's no choice. If she's ever going to get a ship to call her own she first has to keep the universe from blowing up.

All Our Tomorrows

Dave Stewart has survived the inferno of Kansas City and come out the other side. To the rest of the world his fate is uncertain, and by now even Agent Keyes knows better than to assume he's dead. As Keyes and his rogue DHS agents continue their search for him, Dave knows that Plan A, as usual, won't work. His only chance is to keep moving until he can find a safe way to make contact with Nate Reid and figure out his next move. As Dave's odyssey across a zombie infested America continues, he encounters the best and the worst in his fellow survivors. He will find new allies, learn more about the true nature of the Asura virus, and his role in even bigger designs than he ever imagined. But, in a land filled with enemies both living and dead, is all the skill, wit and courage in the world enough to help him survive? Or will this be Dave Stewart's last journey?
