Potty Training*—shares her proven 6-step plan to help you toilet train your preschooler quickly and successfully. Worried about potty training? Let Jamie Glowacki, potty-training expert, show you how it's done. Her 6-step, proven process to get your toddler out of diapers and onto the toilet has already worked for tens of thousands of kids and their parents. Potty Training Is Fun! welcomes you into the world of a little girl who isn't quite sure if she's ready to become a big girl yet-and is skeptical to give potty training a try. But after her dolly uses the potty and is still ok she decides it would be fun to be the newest member of the "mighty underwear family". Through the mishaps and the triumphs along the way, the little girl is so happy she decided to be potty trained. The celebration party at the end with colorful balloons, a purple cake, and a new dolly makes her feel so good about herself! And now she'd like you to join her in all the fun. It's time to send those diapers packing and move on to some cool undies! It's good to remember that not all kids are ready to be potty trained at the same age. What makes this book unique is that it appeals to both the younger and older child alike. Younger children will aspire to the character in the book and older ones will be relieved she is not a "baby" (which could make them feel bad about being older). No child will be made to feel that they are behind no matter what their age. And most importantly, they'll see potty training as being a blast! Illustrations were done by the award winning artist, Debra Strout.

Are you wondering why your child finds it difficult to learn and follow your simple toilet training exercise? The definition of potty training for a two-year-old child does not mean having the ability to get up in the middle of the night to use the toilet when he or she have the urge or to even the ability to get up in the morning, head to the potty, pull underwear pant down, use the restroom, flush, dress up, wash hands, neatly replace the hand towel. No little kids ones need help. They need help activating their abilities. They need you to give a boost when necessary. Or to remind them every hour or so to use the toilet (whether they feel like they need to or not.) Or to flip a light switch on. And to help with buttons and straps and wiping, and plenty of other stuff. Parent should understand that kids are different, comparing your kid with other trained kids will do more harm than good
