As a leading Confederate general, Braxton Bragg (1817–1876) earned a reputation for incompetence, for wantonly shooting his own soldiers, and for losing battles. This public image established him not only as a scapegoat for the South's military failures but also as the chief whipping boy of the Confederacy. The strongly negative opinions of Bragg's contemporaries have continued to color assessments of the general's military career and character by generations of historians. Rather than take these assessments at face value, Earl J. Hess's biography offers a much more balanced account of Bragg, the man and the officer. While Hess analyzes Bragg's many campaigns and battles, he also emphasizes how his contemporaries viewed his successes and failures and how these reactions affected Bragg both personally and professionally. The testimony and opinions of other members of the Confederate army--including Bragg's superiors, his fellow generals, and his subordinates--reveal how the general became a symbol for the larger military failures that undid the Confederacy. By connecting the general's personal life to his military career, Hess positions Bragg as a figure saddled with unwarranted infamy and humanizes him as a flawed yet misunderstood figure in Civil War history.

To determine the current and future competencies required by librarians and information professionals, a project was undertaken to meet the following objectives: set forth an idealized framework to be used by the librarian and information professional community; determine a first set of competencies which are validated in the workplace to some extent; establish initial education and training requirements; initiate a process for communication among the principal librarians and information professional participants which can be continued after project completion; and describe steps that can be taken in the future to ensure continuation of the competency achievement cycle. To meet these objectives, substantial input was obtained from a large number of organizations, educators, employers, professional societies, and individual professionals. The study results are presented in a six-chapter report and five appendices. Report chapters comprise: Overview of the Project; A Framework for Describing Librarian and Information Professional Competencies; Methods; Information Workers and Librarians and Information Professionals; Librarian and Information Professional Competencies; and Educational Requirements and Implications. Appendices include a literature review; secondary analyses (including analyses of information professional and librarian vacancy announcements); an example of the relationships between competencies, performance, effectiveness, and value in three special libraries; a bibliography; and an annotated bibliography. Twelve supplementary volumes provide detailed descriptions of competencies for the following positions: (1) Academic Librarian; (2) Public Librarian; (3) School Librarian; (4) Special Librarian; (5) Database Producer; (6) Database Distributor/Service; (7) Information Center/Clearinghouse; (8) Records and Information Manager; (9) Archivist/Museum; (10) Information Analysis Center; (11) Information Service Company; and (12) Library System Supplier. The book also covers the maintenance and repair procedures of these vehicles, including fault finding, servicing, repair and first-responder information. Clear diagrams, photos and flow charts outline the charging infrastructure, how EV technology works, and how to repair and maintain hybrid and electric vehicles. Optional IMI online eLearning materials enable students to study the subject further and test their knowledge. It is particularly suitable for students studying towards IMI Level 2 Award in Hybrid Electric Vehicle Operation and Maintenance, IMI Level 3 Award in Hybrid Electric Vehicle Repair and Replacement, IMI Accreditation, C&G and other EV/Hybrid courses.

If you enjoy a bit of DIY in the home or you maintain your own car, caravan, RV, motorbike or bicycle you will, sooner or later, come across something so rusty you think it's welded in place. You dangle from the longest spanner you own, maybe cheating a bit with a length of tube over the end and SNAP! You have a sheared off shaft in a hole The aim of this book is to provide you with a way to solve the first problem while minimising the probability of the second. It walks you through a series of complementary techniques to clean and free the problem fastener with the minimum effort, risk and damage. Even if you already have a sheared stump to deal with we have techniques for that too.

Five new plays. Elegy (by Jodi Gallagher): Two sisters, unlike, yet sharing a lust for life. When one dies, the other finds herself in a void that can only be created by the loss of a loved one. A tender but frank account of a family tragedy. So Wet (by Samantha Bews): Silv, a twenty-something, is a professional woman on the move and determined to make every post a winner -- and that's just her social life. A witty tale of longing, laced with a touch of the erotic. Like a Metaphor (by Gabrielle MacDonald): A language journey, in four and a half monologues, through a series of refractions, turning points and tiny visceral moments. A woman's sensual examination of bodily experiences. Baby X (by Campion Decent): Georgie and Evelyn are a lesbian couple in search of a sperm donor. A madcap comedy that takes a recipe for family life, throws it in a blender with a generous dollop of queer consciousness, and celebrates the result. Violet Inc. (by Pam Leversha): Violet Fahrenheit: brilliant, savage, inspiring -- her spirit radiates the lovers and acolytes who surround her. Thirty years later, they are still struggling to exorcise her legacy. A vibrant journey through social and personal change.
